ICT Use by Students

RATIONALE

Information and Communication Technology (ICT), and in particular electronic media, including the Internet and email, are valuable tools in the Catholic school’s goal to educate the whole person. The Internet offers great educational opportunities when used responsibly. Using electronic media allows us to communicate with people all over the world and research interesting topics. Queen of Apostles’ have developed school rules for using electronic media to protect students and the school from harm. All students must follow the school rules. As students in a Catholic school it is our responsibility to use electronic media in a positive way to help spread the “Good News” of Jesus. We do this through our words and actions. Our communications must always be truthful and respectful of other people.

DEFINITION

‘Information and Communication Technology (ICT)’ means all computer hardware, software, systems and technology (including the Internet, email and social media) and telecommunications devices in facilities that may be used or accessed from a school campus or connected to a school’s communication network.

PRINCIPLES

1. Queen of Apostles School ICT is provided for educational purposes only. It is a tool to support learning.
2. Using Queen of Apostles’ School ICT requires students to behave responsibly. Access may be removed if school rules are broken. The school promotes compliance with State and Federal laws when using ICT through this policy and procedures. A summary of these laws is an attachment to this Policy and forms part of this Policy.
3. The school has the right to check all written, graphic, audio and other materials created, produced, communicated, stored or accessed on school ICT by students, including emails.
4. Students shall be made aware that access to ICT, particularly the Internet and email, can expose them to inappropriate material or potential harm.

PROCEDURES

1. Students understand that the use of Queen of Apostles’ School ICT is a privilege. This privilege may be lost if a student uses ICT in an unacceptable way.
2. The acceptable and unacceptable use by students of the ICT are listed below.

2.1 Acceptable use includes:
   • following teachers’ instructions
• accessing only the information the teacher has agreed to. If students find anything on the Internet that makes them feel bad or uncomfortable they must click on BACK or turn the monitor off and tell their teacher.
• being polite and courteous when emailing
• seeking the teacher’s permission before sending an email
• researching information for a topic or assignment given by the teacher
• correctly acknowledging the work of others according to Copyright laws
• respecting the privacy of others including other students and staff members
• informing the teacher if you are concerned that you have accidentally accessed inappropriate material
• handling all ICT equipment with care.

2.2 Unacceptable use includes:
• using ICT without permission or without supervision by a teacher
• visiting any site that has not been approved by the teacher
• using the Internet to access offensive or inappropriate information
• interfering with emails or files belonging to others
• downloading anything without the teacher’s permission
• disclosing to anyone via email or the Internet their name address, telephone number or any other private information
• sending a personal photograph without the written permission of a parent
• sending anything without the teacher’s permission
• sending or receiving a message which has a false name or has used another’s name without permission

Important Statues which are applicable to students’ use of School ICT include:

Copyright Act 1968 (Cth)

Students may copy or otherwise deal with copyright material for the purpose of study or education. However, generally only the author of original material has the right to reproduce, copy, publish, perform, communicate to the public and make an adaptation of the copyright material.

Equal Opportunity Act 1984 (WA)

This Act precludes:

- discrimination against persons on grounds of sex, marital status or pregnancy,
- family responsibility or family status, sexual orientation, race, religious or political conviction, impairment or age in education
- sexual harassment and racial harassment in the workplace and in educational institutions

This Act promotes

- community recognition and acceptance of the equality of all persons regardless of their race, sexual orientation, religious or political convictions, impairments or ages

Censorship Act 1996 (WA)

Students must not use a computer service to transmit, obtain or request an article knowing that it contains objectionable and restricted material. It is an offence to possess or copy indecent or obscene articles or child pornography. Students should be aware for their own protection that people who deal with such material commit an offence.

Criminal Code (WA)

Students should be aware that it is illegal to show offensive material to children under 16, and that if someone does show them offensive material that person is committing an offence. Racist harassment and incitement to racial hatred are also criminal offences.

Cybercrime Act 2001 (Cth)

Unauthorised access to or modification of data held in a computer and unauthorised impairment of electronic communication eg ‘hacking’ or infecting computer systems with a virus, are illegal.

Privacy Act 1988 (Cth)

Students should respect that the personal information of others is private. This Act covers the collection, use and disclosure, quality and security of personal information.
APPROPRIATE USE OF ELECTRONIC MEDIA CONTRACT

Conditions for Appropriate Use of Electronic Media
The following conditions have been decided upon to regulate the use of electronic media, including the Internet and email, by students attending Queen of Apostles School. Queen of Apostles School cannot control all of the information available on electronic media and is not responsible for other people’s actions or the quality and content of information available.

The school will ensure that students:
1. know that the privacy of others must be respected at all times and that accessing other person’s files is not allowed
2. know that any misuse of electronic media is to be reported to staff immediately
3. are always supervised by a member of staff when using electronic media at school
4. will have a clear understanding that there are Internet sites that should not be visited
5. will not copy or print articles without permission from a teacher

The student will:
1. ask permission of the teacher before going online
2. check with the teacher before going to a site or link if uncertain about that site
3. not deliberately access offensive or inappropriate information
4. not use electronic media to send / receive a message that is inconsistent with the school’s code of conduct and standards
5. not divulge their own or any other student’s personal, family or school details of any kind without permission of the teacher
6. search only the relevant topic
7. be required to follow the copyright rules for any information used.

Teachers and Parents need to:
1. support one another to encourage the student to use electronic media in an appropriate manner
2. be advised that inappropriate use of electronic media can be a violation of local, state, federal and international laws. Violations can lead to prosecution.

Consequences for inappropriate use
The use of electronic media in a school is a privilege not a right and inappropriate use will result in temporary or permanent cancellation of this privilege. In addition, further disciplinary action may be imposed. This may lead to the exclusion of a student who repeatedly breaches these rules or where the impact of a single breach of the school rules is significantly damaging to another individual or the school.
Access to electronic media is conditional on this contract being signed by the student, parent and class teacher.
Please sign and return this contract once you have discussed the attached documents with your child/children.
